

LORI WALLACE

When mind intelligence bows to heart intelligence, life harmonizes. – Lori Wallace

Lori has prepared herself to be of service to humanity her whole life. As mother, partner, business owner, social entrepreneur, and student of nature, psychology, myth and love – she's studied life, leaned in, felt the heat, and let it burn away oppressive coping mechanisms in order to reinstate heart-mind as the seat of intelligence.

As a graduate from UCLA in Psychology, with additional certifications in "Nurtured Heart Approach" and "Wild Soul Facilitation", Lori unlocks diversity and cooperation so all may reap the rewards of deep integration – the way nature intended.

The challenging world of employment is Lori's landscape for healing. To ease human suffering and empower authentic relating, she founded igMedical Search in 2005 to effectively transform head hunting into human connection. Ten years later, she birthed Career Ecology to unlock authentic relating at every key touch point, including: Responsive Resume, Mindful Interviewing, Dynamic Search, Intentional Networking, and Activated LinkedIn – as well as "Way of the Monarch" (an experiential into heart-mindfulness). In essence, Lori reframes the search for meaningful work into a gateway to wholeness and social wellbeing.

Lori's vision for Career Ecology includes serving organizations facing lay-off events by transforming outplacement into empowerment for all. And in response to the effects of loneliness in a ever changing world, Career Ecology seeds cultural enrichment in lunch rooms for businesses committed to fostering trust, joy, and creativity in the workplace.
